

ISIDRO FABELA RESEARCH SUPPORT PROGRAM
FOR INTERNATIONAL RESEARCH ON THE HISTORY OF MEXICO'S
INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS
2023

With the purpose of promoting and publicizing research on the history of Mexico's international relations at universities and research centers in the United States and Canada, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Mexico, through the North America Unit and the Directorate-General of the Archives of Diplomatic History

Issue a Call

To participate in the 2023 Isidro Fabela Research Support Program for International Research on the History of Mexico's International Relations.

Rules for Participation and Submissions

1. - Participants: All academics affiliated with a higher education institution or research center in the United States or Canada, who research the history of binational relations between Mexico and North America and who present a proposal that requires documentary sources available from the Foreign Ministry's Genaro Estrada Archive of Diplomatic History, are eligible to participate.

2. The history of international relations is understood as research based on documentary and other sources of information into events and processes beginning with the Independence of Mexico, in matters of foreign policy, doctrine and Mexico's presence in the world.

3. The Research Support Program will consist of:

- The search, location, digitization and delivery of historical documentation for two selected research projects, one from the United States and the other from Canada. The documents will be delivered on three scheduled dates, previously agreed with the researchers selected.
- Once the research is complete, the best paper will be selected and recommended to the Foreign Ministry Editorial Committee for publication in Spanish. The paper may also be published in co-edition with the academic institution with which the researcher is affiliated, with the prior agreement of the parties.

4. To participate, the research projects must be about to start or already in progress, scheduled for completion by December 2023, and result in a publishable academic paper of at least 80 pages in length. Either individual authorship or co-authorship is allowed.

5. The proposals must include the following sections:

- a) Title
- b) Name(s) of the author(s)
- c) Name of the academic institution of affiliation
- d) Rationale
- e) General research objective and specific objectives
- f) Up-to-date progress report
- g) Timeline
- h) List of documentary sources required from the Genaro Estrada Historical Archive

6. - The research proposals must be submitted in Spanish for judging.

7.-The research must not have been published previously or be under consideration for publication elsewhere.

8.- Selection of the winning research projects and the publication process will be organized by the areas issuing the Call, and by specialized academics invited to participate. All decisions are final and the Call may be declared void.

9. - The research proposals and supporting documentation should be sent in PDF format to the email address dqahistorico@sre.gob.mx as follows:

- a. Complete research proposal
- b. Proof of current affiliation of all authors with a higher education institution in the United States or Canada
- c. Registration form.
- d. Author identification
- e. Commitment letter stating that the completed research will be delivered by January 31, 2024

Note: All documents must be sent in separate files with a title that identifies the content of each one. All documentation must meet these minimum requirements for the application to be considered.

10.- Proposals can be submitted from April 1 to June 30, 2023 at 12:00 p.m. Nothing will be accepted after the submission deadline.

11.- The result of the contest will be announced by email to the participants on July 31, 2023.

12.- Any issues not covered by this Call will be resolved by the North America Unit and the Directorate-General of the Archives of Diplomatic History. Their decision is final.

13. - For further information, contact the Directorate of Diplomatic History and Publications at telephone number +52 55 3686-5100 ext. 5019, 4896 and 5025 or email dqahistorico@sre.gob.mx
