Letter from the Ambassador

2015 a great year for the Australia-Mexico relationship.

During the last years, Australia and Mexico have developed a frank and permanent political dialogue at the highest level, including Leaders and Foreign Ministers. At the same time, both countries are partners in the more relevant international bodies such as OECD, APEC, G20, TPP and MIKTA, and they share values and a common vision on most international subjects.

An Extraordinary Ambassador.

In this occasion, this section shall be dedicated to a very good Australian friend of Mexico, Mr. Tim George, who has just finished his tour of duty as Australian Ambassador to Mexico.

A few days ago Mr. Tim George left his post as the Ambassador of Australia in our country, after completing an outstanding diplomatic posting in Mexico.

For nearly three years, Ambassador George worked tirelessly to bring closer Mexico and Australia. During those same years both countries made considerable progress in diplomatic, economic, technical and cultural relations.
